ADMISSION TO PRACTICE LAW IN CALIFORNIA BY ATTORNEYS ADMITTED TO PRACTICE IN THE UNITED STATES

The requirements for admission to practice law in California are contained in the Rules Regulating Admission to Practice Law in California (Rules). The following is a summary of the requirements for attorneys who are admitted in other states or jurisdictions of the United States. For the specific requirements, please refer to the Rules.

To be admitted to practice law in California, an attorney applicant must comply with the requirements outlined in the Rules, which include: 1) registration as an attorney applicant; 2) a positive moral character determination; 3) passage of the Multistate Professional Responsibility Examination (MPRE); and, 4) passage of the California Bar Examination. Additionally, an applicant must not be certified by the State Department of Social Services as being in non-compliance with a court ordered child or family support obligation. There is no requirement of citizenship or residency.

Attorney applicants admitted in other states or jurisdictions of the United States who have been admitted in active status in good standing four years immediately preceding the first day of the administration of the California Bar Examination, may elect to take the Attorneys' Examination, which is of two days duration and consists of six essay questions and the two performance test questions from the California Bar Examination. Attorney applicants admitted less than four years, attorneys not in good standing and attorneys not in active status must take the General Bar Examination, which is of three days duration and consists of six essay questions, two performance test questions and a 200-item multiple choice Multistate Bar Examination portion. Attorneys qualified to take the Attorneys' Examination may choose to take the California Bar Examination instead of the Attorney's Examination.

As the first step, attorney applicants must register with the Committee of Bar Examiners through The State Bar of California's website at <http://admissions.calbar.ca.gov>, by selecting "Register with the State Bar" prior to filing an application either to take the California Bar Examination or for a moral character determination. Please refer to Rule 4.16 of the Rules of the State Bar of California, which are available online at <http://admissions.calbar.ca.gov>. A fee is required at the time the registration application is submitted. A determination regarding an attorney applicant's eligibility to take either the California Bar Examination or Attorneys' Examination will be made based upon submission of current Certificates of Good Standing from the jurisdiction(s) to which the applicant has been admitted. All Certificates of Good Standing must be mailed to the Los Angeles office at:

The timely filing deadline is November 1 for the February examination and April 1 for the July examination.
